I feel the whole law suit was frivolous from the very beginning.
This country is about competition and being innovative.
If a company falls behind is is probably do to the lack of the above two things.

I use a Apple computer. A couple of years ago I had a Permorm 5215CD, with an older operating system, it got so I could not get Netscape product to work on it, Microsoft Explorer did, so when I purchased an iMac I went to the Microsoft product because it worked on my older computer!

Government needs to keep its hand out of the running of business in this country.
